DEDICATION

Page 3, top: Mr. Margarita's coaching staff at Stoneham High in 1969.

In September of 1964, Mr. Henry Margarita arrived at Stoneham High School — the place where he would coach, instruct, and advise students for the next fifteen years. A member of the Brown University Hall of Fame, and an ex-professional football player of the Chicago Bears, Mr. Margarita, at first a coach, skillfully led the Stoneham team to many victories. As a teacher of government and history, he continues to show a scholarly dedication to learning, for which he won the Merit Award of Excellence. But perhaps as an intimate friend and counselor, Mr. Margarita has best demonstrated his thoughtful consideration for young people. A soft-spoken, kindly gentleman, he has earned the warm affection and deep respect of students and teachers alike. We, the class of 1980, dedicate this yearbook to him, as a token of our esteem and pride for his valuable guidance and friendship, and with wishes for a peaceful and prosperous future.

LIFE

Do not open before 2000

What artifacts of 1980 — if stored away and brought out 20 years later — would move this year's high school graduates to a kind of nostalgia their parents often experience at the sound of Johnnie Ray record or the sight of a crinoline petticoat unearthed in the attic? What items, discovered by collectors at the sales of the 21st century, would reveal the true texture of the fads and fashions of today's young?

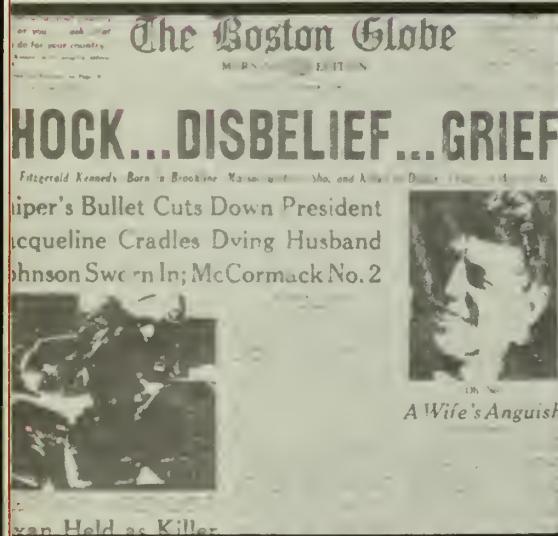

The many styles of dress and differing opinions on music stations are only two aspects which characterize Stoneham High School students. The casual dress and clutch pocketbook of Laurie Mozek and spike heeled shoes are popular among many girls. Along with these go the curls of Linda Larkin. Prep styles were adopted by many members of our senior class. Nancy Barry displays the basic "prep" look — Levi's, small collared shirt, and pull-over sweater with knapsack slung over one shoulder. Docksiders and Perrier water are also considered very "preppie." Other members of our class, such as Karen Caswell, have turned to colorful suspenders instead of belts to hold up their dungarees.

Our music tastes are as different as our clothes. An ardent fan of the Marshall Tucker Band is Kevin Marshall. The radio station WBCN plays progressive rock such as that of the Outlaws. For those who enjoy softer rock, there is Jackson Browne and the ever popular George, Paul, Ringo and John. Some lingering fads are bumper stickers which express anything, and the Frisbee. Finally, if you look closely at our collage, you may notice many items which bring back pleasant memories of high school.

In 1962, we were born, as John Glenn orbited the moon. When John F. Kennedy was assassinated in 1963, we were taking our first steps and speaking our first words, blissfully ignorant of our parents' shock and grief.

We grew up as the Beatles hit their peak, too young to understand, but still loving "The Yellow Submarine."

In 1968, we entered our first year of school, oblivious to the tragedies of the spring. As we were first introduced to the wider world of knowledge through Tom, Jane and Spot, Richard Nixon was elected to his first term of Presidency.

In 1969, we all watched breathlessly as the first spacecraft landed on the moon. We heard vaguely about Woodstock, where hippies did what our parents said we had better not do or else, and about something called Vietnam, where soldiers became POW's and missing in action, or just plain dead.

In the fourth grade, we begged our mothers to let us wear the mini-skirts that we scorned a year later. We were more interested in 1972 Olympics with Olga Korbut and Mark Spitz than in the reelection of President Nixon.

In 1974, the impact of Watergate and the unprecedented resignation of the President of the U.S. paled against the prospect of entering the Junior High as seventh graders.

The Energy Crisis and President Ford's guidelines meant that we froze in school, beginning in the eighth grade.

"May I have your aph, please"

We were more excited over our Freshman Banquet in 1976 than we were over the nation's Bicentennial, although we were all buzzing over the election of a peanut farmer as our nation's leader.

In 1977, Saturday Night Fever got everyone dancing, but by the Twirl we were more interested in who would ask who than the dancing. By 1978, we began an anti-disco movement for those more interested in song than dance.

During the Blizzard of '78, we practiced driving on the empty roads.

As we started 11th grade, we were getting our licenses one after another in rapid succession, and cruising all over the town to show off our triumph.

1978 also brought Animal House toga parties and food fights to the high school. While Carter attempted to bring Begin and Sadat together for peace talks, matchmakers were attempting to fix-up their friends with dates for the Junior Prom.

As seniors, we knew a special joy as the Pope celebrated us, the young people, and we also knew deep sadness at the death of our Dean, Mrs. Barry. We finally became interested in politics when Ted Kennedy announced his candidacy.

As 1980 nears, we are caught up in the rush of tests and college applications, but we are still looking forward to our Senior Prom, and ultimately, to our graduation from high school.

New York, N.Y. 10017, Thursday, October 16, 1975

According to the Rulebook: IT WAS INTERFERENCE

CONTROVERSIAL PLAY in '75 World Series occurred in the 10th inning of Game No. 3 and involved Red Sox catcher Carlton Fisk with Cincinnati's Ed Armbrister. The New York News (above) thought it was interference. AL Umpire Larry Barnett decided otherwise. He, too, had supporters. What do you think? Here's an EXCLUSIVE SEQUENCE. This occurred in Riverfront Stadium and was viewed by 60,090,000 fans via NBC-TV. The deciding Series game attracted 75,900,000 TV viewers — largest sports audience of all time.

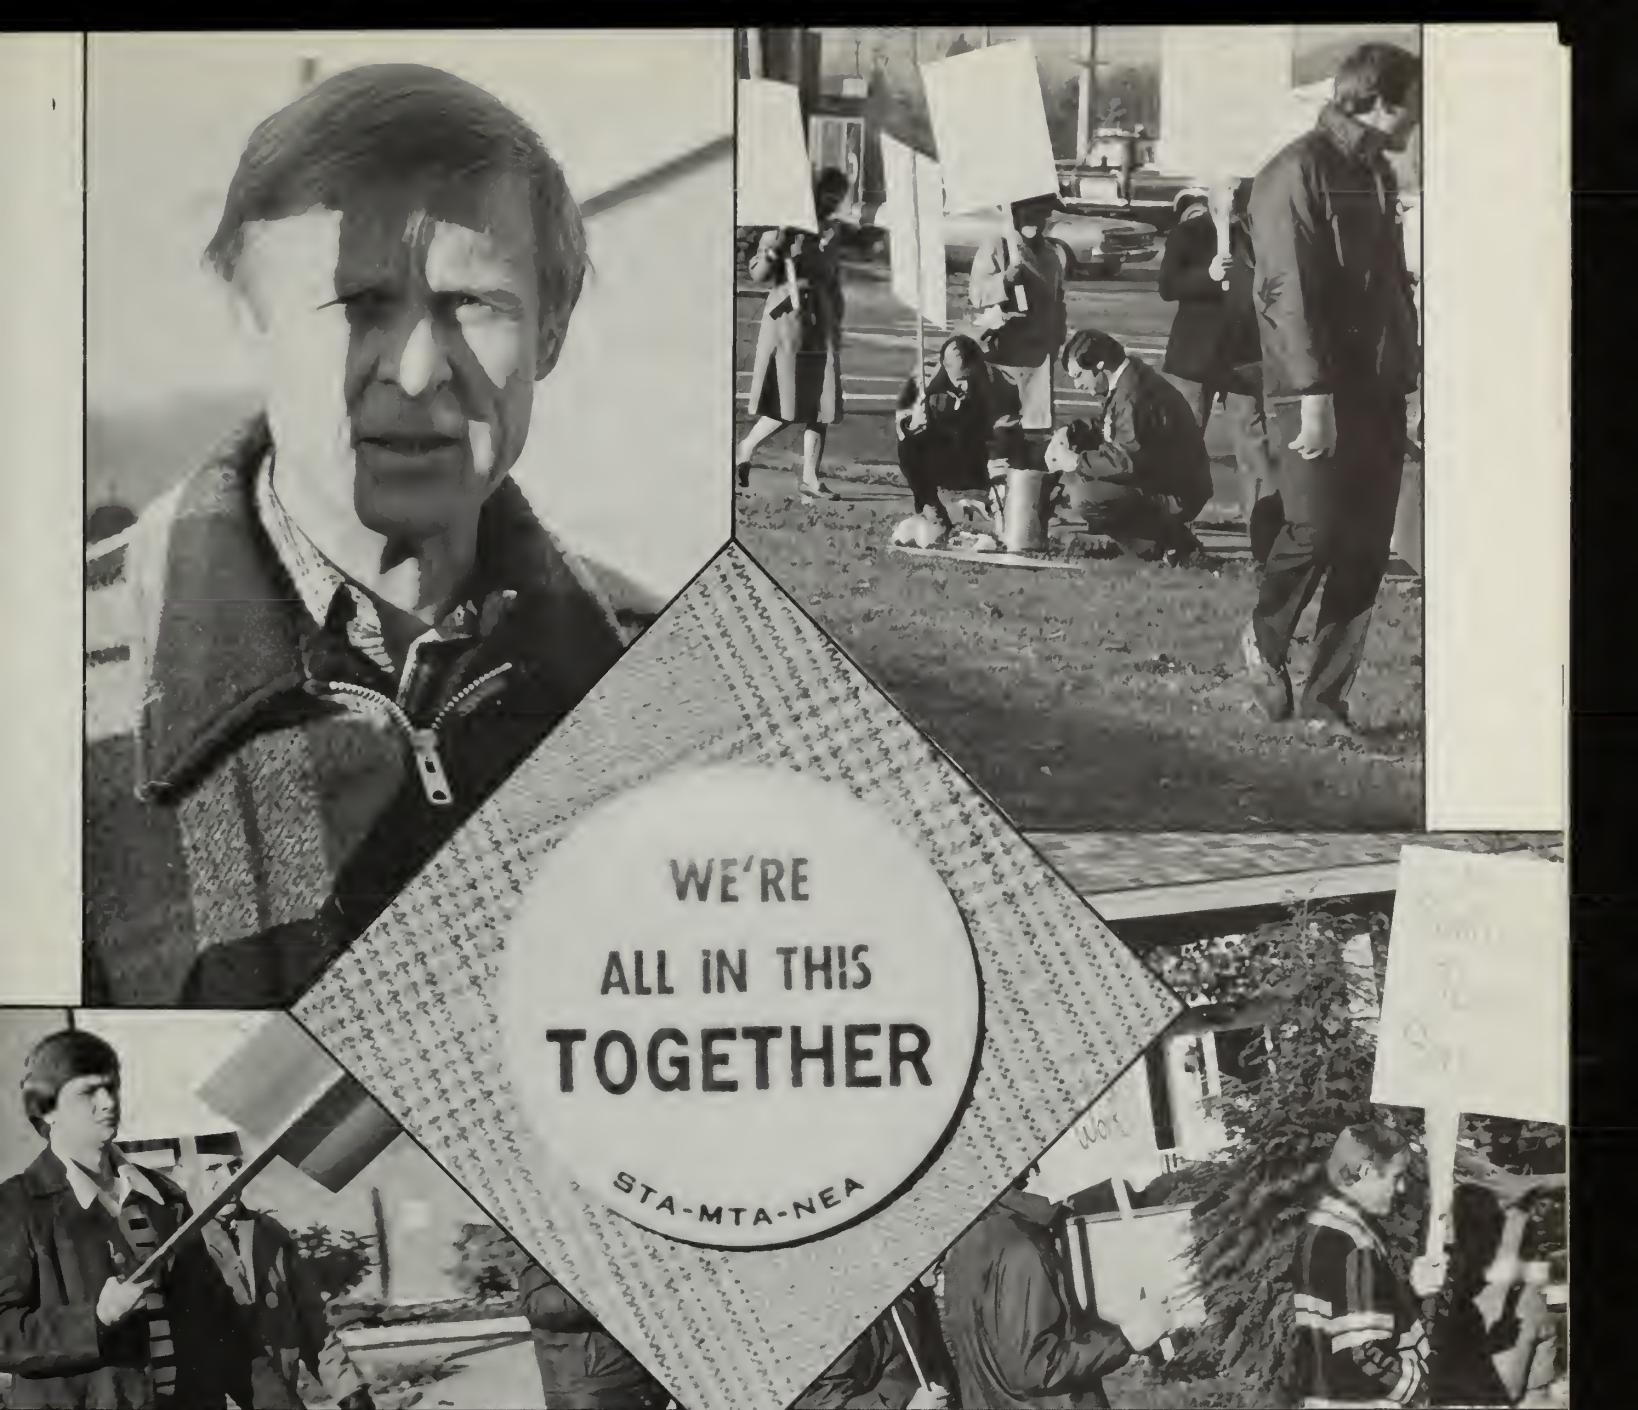

OMNI

Do you remember just awhile past
A time when it was all right.
Sometime away long ago
Catch it in your sight.
"We're all in this together," you thought
So the saying goes.
But somehow we were different —
not that it really showed.
We clung to one another and the feeling was just right
Even during those long and seemingly endless Friday nights
Maybe we'd drink or date
or just be by ourselves.
But you knew somewhere
someone was waiting with somebody else
Along alone side by side
we'll walk out of here alive with other memories
of those who died
Always we will question why.

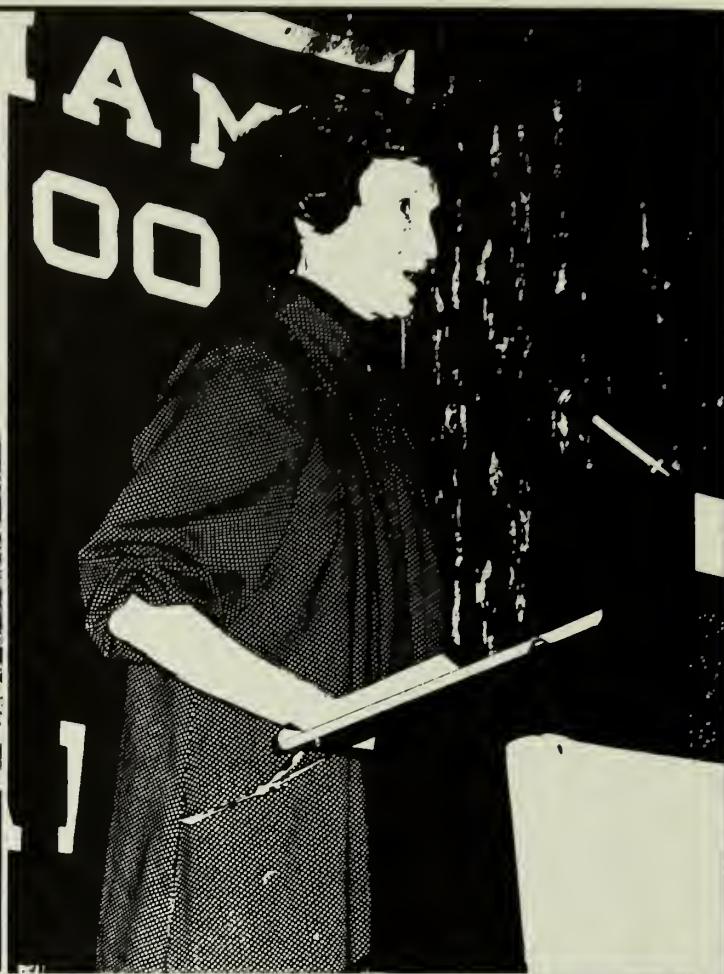

WE'RE
ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

TEACHER

AGNES-MARY BARRY
1923-1979

Agnes-Mary Barry will be remembered as a unique and wonderful wife and mother, a competent and compassionate professional, and a great lady whose life was marked by grace and dignity.

The greater part of the last seven months of Mrs. Barry's life has been a victory for the human spirit against the greatest odds. Her life is exemplified in a moving passage from Michener's Chesapeake. A young scholar is searching for the source of the great river which becomes the spacious bay, then the ocean itself. And to his surprise, he finds a lovely meadow with no mysteriously gushing water, but simply an accumulation from many unseen sources, like a gathering together of meaning. Mrs. Barry shall forever be like that lovely meadow, accumulating strength, courage, and wisdom from unseen sources and sharing them. Then for a generation of young people, she was like the river which flowed from that meadow. "There you are," the young explorer said, "beautiful river, the holder of secrets." She knew all their names, which was her way of expressing their uniqueness and value as people. They told her their secrets, which was their way of expressing trust in her integrity and faith in her judgment.

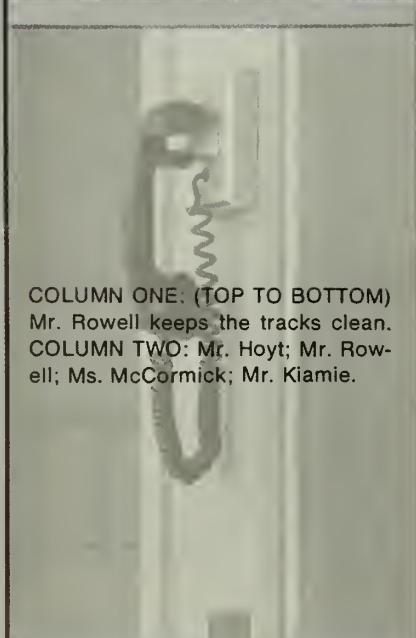

She brought meaning without parallel to the role of parent and nobility to her profession. Since our lives are the sum of many moments, those who knew her will be struck, in the days and years to come, by certain special memories of her: the gathering of a close and loving family, good food and conversation among dear friends, where there is loyalty among colleagues, where nothing short of one's best is acceptable, where justice is unselfish, whenever citizenship and character are prized, always where there is excellence, always where there is laughter.

Shakespeare understood the human heart and so his words express this tribute to Agnes-Mary Barry:

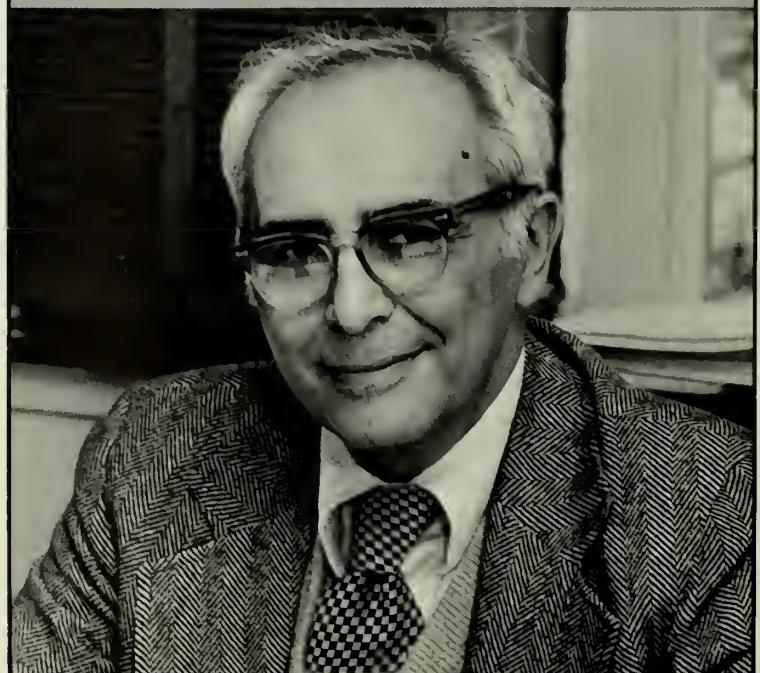

When she shall die,
Take her and cut her out in
little stars,
And she shall make the face of
Heaven so fine,
That all the world will be in love with night.

GLANCE . . .

Stoneham High has turned out more than its share of achievers from the Class of 1980. Many seniors have received early acceptances to the colleges of their choice. Sue Ellen Brown will be a member of Harvard's freshman class next year. Mary Jane Warren, winner of the Rensselaer Medal for math and science, has been accepted to Brown University. The Class of 1980's Brown Book Award recipient, Melanie Smith, has been admitted to Bennington, where her studies will include Art. Melanie has gained much recognition through her artwork, winning a gold key in The Boston Globe's Scholastic Art Show.

Bringing glory to SHS through their athletic achievements were Susan Dion, Roger Padovani, and Michael Hudson. Susan Dion, an all-star in both basketball and track, long-jumped a startling 17' 3/4," to be ranked fourth in New England. Roger Padovani's soccer expertise earned him a position on the Eastern Mass. Division All-Star Team. Michael Hudson dominated the league in winter track, placing third in the state in the 1000 meter race.

Carol Johnson left SHS to spend her senior year studying in Germany. As the rest of our class leaves Stoneham High, we know that our achievements have only begun.

TEN LITTLE INDIANS

Ten little Indian boys going out to dine,
One choked his little self, and then there were nine.
Nine little Indian boys sat up very late,
One overslept himself, and then there were eight.
Eight little Indian boys traveling in Devon,
One got left behind, and then there were seven.
Seven little Indian boys chopping up sticks,
One chopped himself in half, and then there were six.
Six little Indian boys playing with a hive,
A bumblebee stung one, and then there were five.
Five little Indian boys going in for law,
One got in chancery, and then there were four.
Four little Indian boys sailing out to sea,
A red herring swallowed one, and then there were three.
Three little Indian boys going to the zoo,
One got blown apart, and then there were two.
Two little Indian boys sitting in the sun,
One lost his heart to love, and then there was one.
One little Indian boy left all alone,
He went and hanged himself, and then there were none.

CAST

Maria Gentile — Miss Emily Brent Michael DeiTergo — General MaKenzie
Ralph DiFronzo — Blore Michael Bucci — Phillip Lombard
Terri Christie — Vera Claythorne Ed Couto — Mr. Rogers
Nick Turco — Justice Wargrave Evelyn Walker — Mrs. Rogers
Patrick Ward — Anthony Marston Bob Marshall — Narracott
Alayne Carey — Dr. Armstrong

On Saturday evening, February 9, the 1980 Annual Winter Carnival Ball provided a mystical, magical array of entertainment for all present. The theme chosen was MAGIC, and the evening proved to be just that. When the curtains parted, giant representations of Tarot Cards were revealed, providing a colorful stage setting. The Royal Couple King Louis Tarantino and Queen Jolene McNutt presided over an enchanting evening of music, dance, and humor. Mistress and Master of Ceremonies Susan Maher and Bill Hunt (at right) were spotlighted, as they welcomed the audience to the 1980 Carnival Ball, and then capably announced the various acts that followed the coronation pageant. After the traditional crowning of the royal couple, the delightful evening unfolded, and a mystical aura filled the air.

MAGIC

THE THEATRE ARTS GROUP, (at left) garbed in black with white gloves, set the show in motion with a dazzling dance routine to the lyrics of "Magic To Do," which was sung by the Carnival Chorus.

THE CARNIVAL BALL USHERETTES. Row 1: Lorraine Musto, Mary Kille, Maria Covino, Cheryl Maffeo, and Debbie Scannell. Row 2: Susan Serrano, Joyce Carlson, Christine Yardumian, Elaine Murphy, and Suzanne Ledwith.

CLOCKWISE: THE CARNIVAL CHORUS, under the direction of Mr. Frank Abrahams, which opened the show with "Magic To Do." Frank Rosselli, the King of the Keyboard, playing "Pinetop Boogie." Two outstanding vocalists, Bruce Folsom and Ralph DiFronzo, performing a country ballad, "Rock Me On The Water." Bob Norden and Larry Blauvelt keep the audience laughing with a humorous skit, entitled "Thank You, Paine-Webber." Hayley Wiseman charms the audience with a touching love song, "I Honestly Love You," accompanied by Frank Rosselli.

CLOCKWISE: Jeanne Hartnett executes the superb agility of an accomplished ballerina, as she dances to "Music and the Mirror." Maria Gentile tells what it's like "Since I Fell For You," accompanied by Larry Curran and Jim Manning. Bob Marshall singing the song that describes him best — "Extraordinary," accompanied by Diane McGurin, Bruce Folsom, and Jim Manning. Evelyn Walker leaves the audience spellbound, as she performs "Prisoner," accompanied by Frank Rosselli and Jim Manning.

BELOW: Larry Curran with his own arrangement of various compositions, which he entitles "Collage." AT RIGHT: The beloved Mrs. Lois Rosen, the woman who made the show a success, is presented with a radiant bouquet of red roses by Master of Ceremonies Bill Hunt, in appreciation for her unending devotion and hard work.

CLOCKWISE: Stoneham High's finest musicians team up to play "Dust In The Wind," including Diane McGurin on piano, Kathy Crosdale and Cathy Haley on flutes, Karen Fung on violin, David Marrano on rhythm guitar, and Bruce Folsom on bass guitar; A distant view of the beautifully decorated stage, the Royal Court, and the Carnival Chorus; Stacey Troiano exercises her powerful voice, as she performs "Crazy," accompanied by Steven Blauvelt, Paul Giannelli, and Mr. Kevin Conroy.

CLOCKWISE: A dignified Mr. Dennis Walter conducting the Jazz Ensemble; Mr. Kevin Conroy, Debbie Nash, and Lori Stevens exercise their musical magic, as they perform a precious love song, "Devoted to You." Part of the Carnival Chorus, which closed the evening with "Could It Be Magic." Mistress of Ceremonies Susan Maher asks the audience, "Who's that man in the funny hat?" Nick Turco searches for his own "Corner of the Sky," with accompaniment by Debbie Nash, Bruce Folsom, and Jim Manning.

(At right) — Scott Arsenault and John Cargill, two outstanding musicians, play the trumpet in the Jazz Ensemble. (Below) — Steven Blauvelt, Paul Gianelli, and Mr. Kevin Conroy strumming their way through their own version of "So Afraid."

The Stoneham High School Athletic Department has provided the students of SHS with the thrills of victory and the agonies of defeat. Unlike many sports programs, however, the Spartan athletes are always willing to give an extra effort and to win and lose in the true spirit of sportsmanship.

Its supporters have been outstanding also. The crowd, no matter how big, can always look forward to watching the Spartans giving all-out performances. The support from the town of Stoneham during 1980 should be commended, as they should be proud that a small town like Stoneham has been able to come so far in athletics with other cities three times as large.

Among the many athletes that the Stoneham Athletic Department has produced, the Class of 1980 has been privileged to have three of the most gifted athletes ever to represent Stoneham High School. Michael Hudson, Susan Dion, and Roger Padovani have achieved above and beyond the call of duty, and have set a fine example for their underclassmen.

Michael has been a member of the Cross-Country, Winter Track, and Spring Track teams throughout high school. As captain, Mike led the 1979-80 Winter Track team through the season. This season, Mike was named to the all-star team in Cross-Country and Winter Track. In Cross-Country, Mike placed fourth in the Middlesex, and came back for a fine showing of third in the state. In Winter Track, in the 1,000 yard run, Mike, again showing his excellence, attained the best league time. However, this time Mike wouldn't settle for second best, he won the Middlesex League Title in the mile run, and again another fine showing of third in the state in the 1,000 yard run.

Susan Dion has been one of the finest all-around athletes throughout her high school career. In the winter, Susan has been an outstanding member of the Girls' Basketball Team, of which she was co-captain. She has been the starting center for the past two years, and has been the major factor in many victories. This season, Susan was named to the All-Stars, and displayed her talent in obtaining the fifth best scoring record in the league. Last spring, Susan was also named to the All-Stars in girls' track. Her flexibility and determination in the long jump was the major contributing factor in her winning the league title, and her third place finish in the state. Among her greatest achievements, Susan represented Stoneham High School in the New England meet in Smithfield, Rhode Island, where she triumphantly placed fourth.

Roger Padovani, throughout his high school career, also displayed a tremendous amount of natural athletic talent and ability. He was the starting guard on the Boys' Varsity Basketball team for two years, receiving the Coaches' Award in his junior year. He was also a starting member on the Varsity Soccer team for three years. Roger excelled greatly in soccer, making the Middlesex All-Star team, and furthering his excellence by making the Eastern Mass. Division All-Star team, and coming in as runner-up for the League M.V.P. Award.

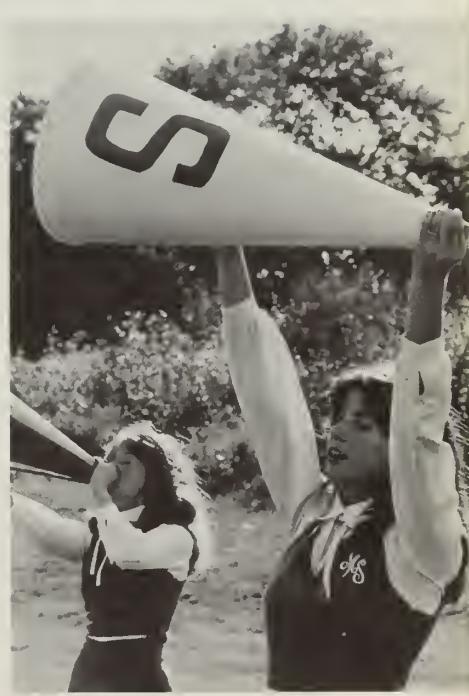

All this success will not end here. These three outstanding athletes, and all other athletes of the Class of 1980, will hopefully continue to display their athletic excellence throughout college, and thus represent that special part of Stoneham High School that the Class of 1980 can be proud. Best of luck in future endeavors to Michael, Susan, Roger, and all Spartan athletes.

This year, Stoneham High Schools soccer team was made up of many talented athletes. This team was one of the most skilled teams to play for Stoneham High. The highlight of the season was Stoneham's victory over Lexington. The Spartans, for the first time in 11 years defeated Lexington 2-1. Captain Bill Hunt made the All-Star team. Half-back Jim Drew and defensive back Frank Simonetti were named to Honorable Mention in the league. Also Roger Padovani made the All-Star team, was runner-up for the league M.V.P., and was chosen for the division I All Eastern Mass. Team. Roger holds the High School record for year goals, 20, and career goals, 40. Coach Kennedy feels it will be a long time before anyone in the league will come near Rogers record. The whole team worked together and ended the season with an 8-7-3 record.

SPARTAN HARRIERS GO ALL OUT

The 1979 Boys' Cross Country season had many bright spots. Despite a 2-7 win-loss record, at the Massachusetts State Championships in Boston, Mike Hudson came home with a third place finish, guiding Stoneham to an amazing 9th place finish overall. Valuable contributions came from seniors Rich Mahoney and John Polcari, as well as sophomores Tim Hegarty and Dan Fitzgerald. Other members of the squad included John Spencer, Tom Scarpa, and Jim Turner.

Led by Captain Nancy DeFeo, the Girls' Cross Country team finished with a 3-4 win-loss record. The girls had three ribbon winners at the league meet; Genie Kellogg (10th), Margie Rossi (17th), and Nancy DeFeo (26th). When looking at the record, remember that the low score wins in cross country.

The 1979 Girls Field Hockey team exploded into their season. A sudden rush of victories early in their season pushed the Spartans to 1st place in the Middlesex League standings. Opposing teams in the league were shocked to find Stoneham Number One. Unfortunately, Stoneham's early winning streak was slowly subdued, and wins became more difficult to achieve as the 18 game season wore on. Despite minor difficulties, Stoneham fought with enthusiasm to maintain their status in the League standings. No opponent gained an easy victory. Each opposing team was hampered by Stoneham's determination and team work. Just as they began, the girls ended the season with a series of devastating wins. They completed the season in 4th place with an 8-8-2 record.

The 1979 Spartan football team brought football and respectability back to Stoneham. The team was carried by an outstanding defense, rarely seen in high school football. The team's ability to play as a unit carried them throughout the season. The team lost 4 games by less than a touchdown, and the only team that beat Stoneham by more than a touchdown won the Eastern Mass. Superbowl. They played very hard every game and nearly went 7-2 if not for some untimely turnovers. The Spartans worked really hard, and should have deserved better.

GYMNASICS

The Gymnastics team, led by Captain Robin Malagodi, had many individual highlights. High scorers all season were seniors Robin Malagodi and Karen Boudreau, along with junior Carol Rolli.

The girls this year showed the most spirit and team improvement in many years. The team will be gaining the talent of some upcoming freshmen, and is sure to become a top-quality competitor in the Middlesex League.

ROUNDBALLERS COME UP SHORT

The 1979-80 Stoneham High School Basketball Team finished their season with a 6-12 record. The lack of experience was the biggest reason to their downfall. The team was made up by mostly underclassmen, with a small handful of seniors to go. It was as if the whole world were against the Spartans this season, as all kinds of breaks, turnovers, and officiating seemed to go against them. They had the ability to play alongside of any team in the league, but just couldn't maintain that level of consistency for the full game. First year Coach Nels Nelson did a fine job with his team, and is determined to turn the whole program around. The team stood as Co-Captains John Cloutier and Tony Gentile, Tim Palermo, John Cargill, Steven Hopkins, and Ed Vargas. The juniors consisted of Jim Warren, Dick Kelly, Joe Smallcomb, Phil Cargill, and Bill Melkonian, and three sophomores, Mike Fiorillo, Norman Palmer, and Paul Morse. The team would like to thank the fans who supported them, the cheerleaders, and Coach Nelson for all the hard work they did. The seniors would also like to wish next year's teams all the best of luck.

Timmy Palermo displays his ability for taking a jump shot; Rich Kelly drives an open baseline for two points; Co-Captain Tony Gentile literally flies through the air en route to the basket, and smack into the floor; Jim Warren gives a head fake to get his opponent off the ground, and goes up for the shot; Co-Captain John Cloutier surrounded by Warriors resorts to a 15 footer; Again, Cloutier, matched against a bigger opponent, fakes the shot and will drive the open baseline.

The Stoneham Girl's Varsity Basketball team struggled through the first half of the season winning only one game. A lack of height and experience injured the team greatly. By mid-season the girls started moving the ball around and showing their true potential. A great victory over Lexington gave the team confidence and they went on to win four more games, including a victory over tourney-bound Winchester. They finished their season with a great team effort and victory over the Reading Rockets to recapture the New England Memorial Hospital trophy for the second year in a row. The team consisted of seniors:

The Team That Achieved Their Goal

Clockwise from above: Tom Duff rides off a Burlington player; Bill Crosby handles a Lexington shot; Brian Giroard fights for the puck; Captain Steven Burke clears the crease of Winchester vermin; SCORE!!; Steven Burke leads a rush down the ice.

The 1979-80 Stoneham High School hockey team had their most successful season in five years. The Spartans started winning early in the season, as they defeated Arlington, Billerica, and Saugus in the pre-season games. With strong support from all team members, they continued to defeat team after team in the Middlesex League. Awesome defense by Frank Simonetti, Mark Nazarian, and Goalies Bill Crosby, Lisa Whitcomb, and John Errico, along with the consistent offense plays of Bill Connell, Rich Santoro, Scottie Boretti, and Tom Duff, combined to place the Spartans in second place in the league. Although they were knocked out in the first round of the State Tournament, we can be proud of our team. Their effort and sportsmanship proved successful, as they finished their season with a 16-1-1 record.

STONEHAM SPARTANS CASH IN

WE WANT LISA!!

This past December, schoolboy hockey history was made in Stoneham as a female hockey player was selected for the varsity hockey squad. During the early practice sessions, five skilled goaltenders were in contention for a slot on the varsity squad. After the final cuts were made, Senior Lisa Whitcomb was chosen as the third and final goaltender. The first reaction of many was that Lisa was a novelty item to add color and publicity to the high-flying Spartans, but after standout performances in pre-season against perennial powers Billerica, Arlington, and Saugus, there was no doubt to the fact that she was highly skilled and capable. Despite having little playing time during the regular season, Lisa practiced long and hard in establishing herself as a fine young hockey player.

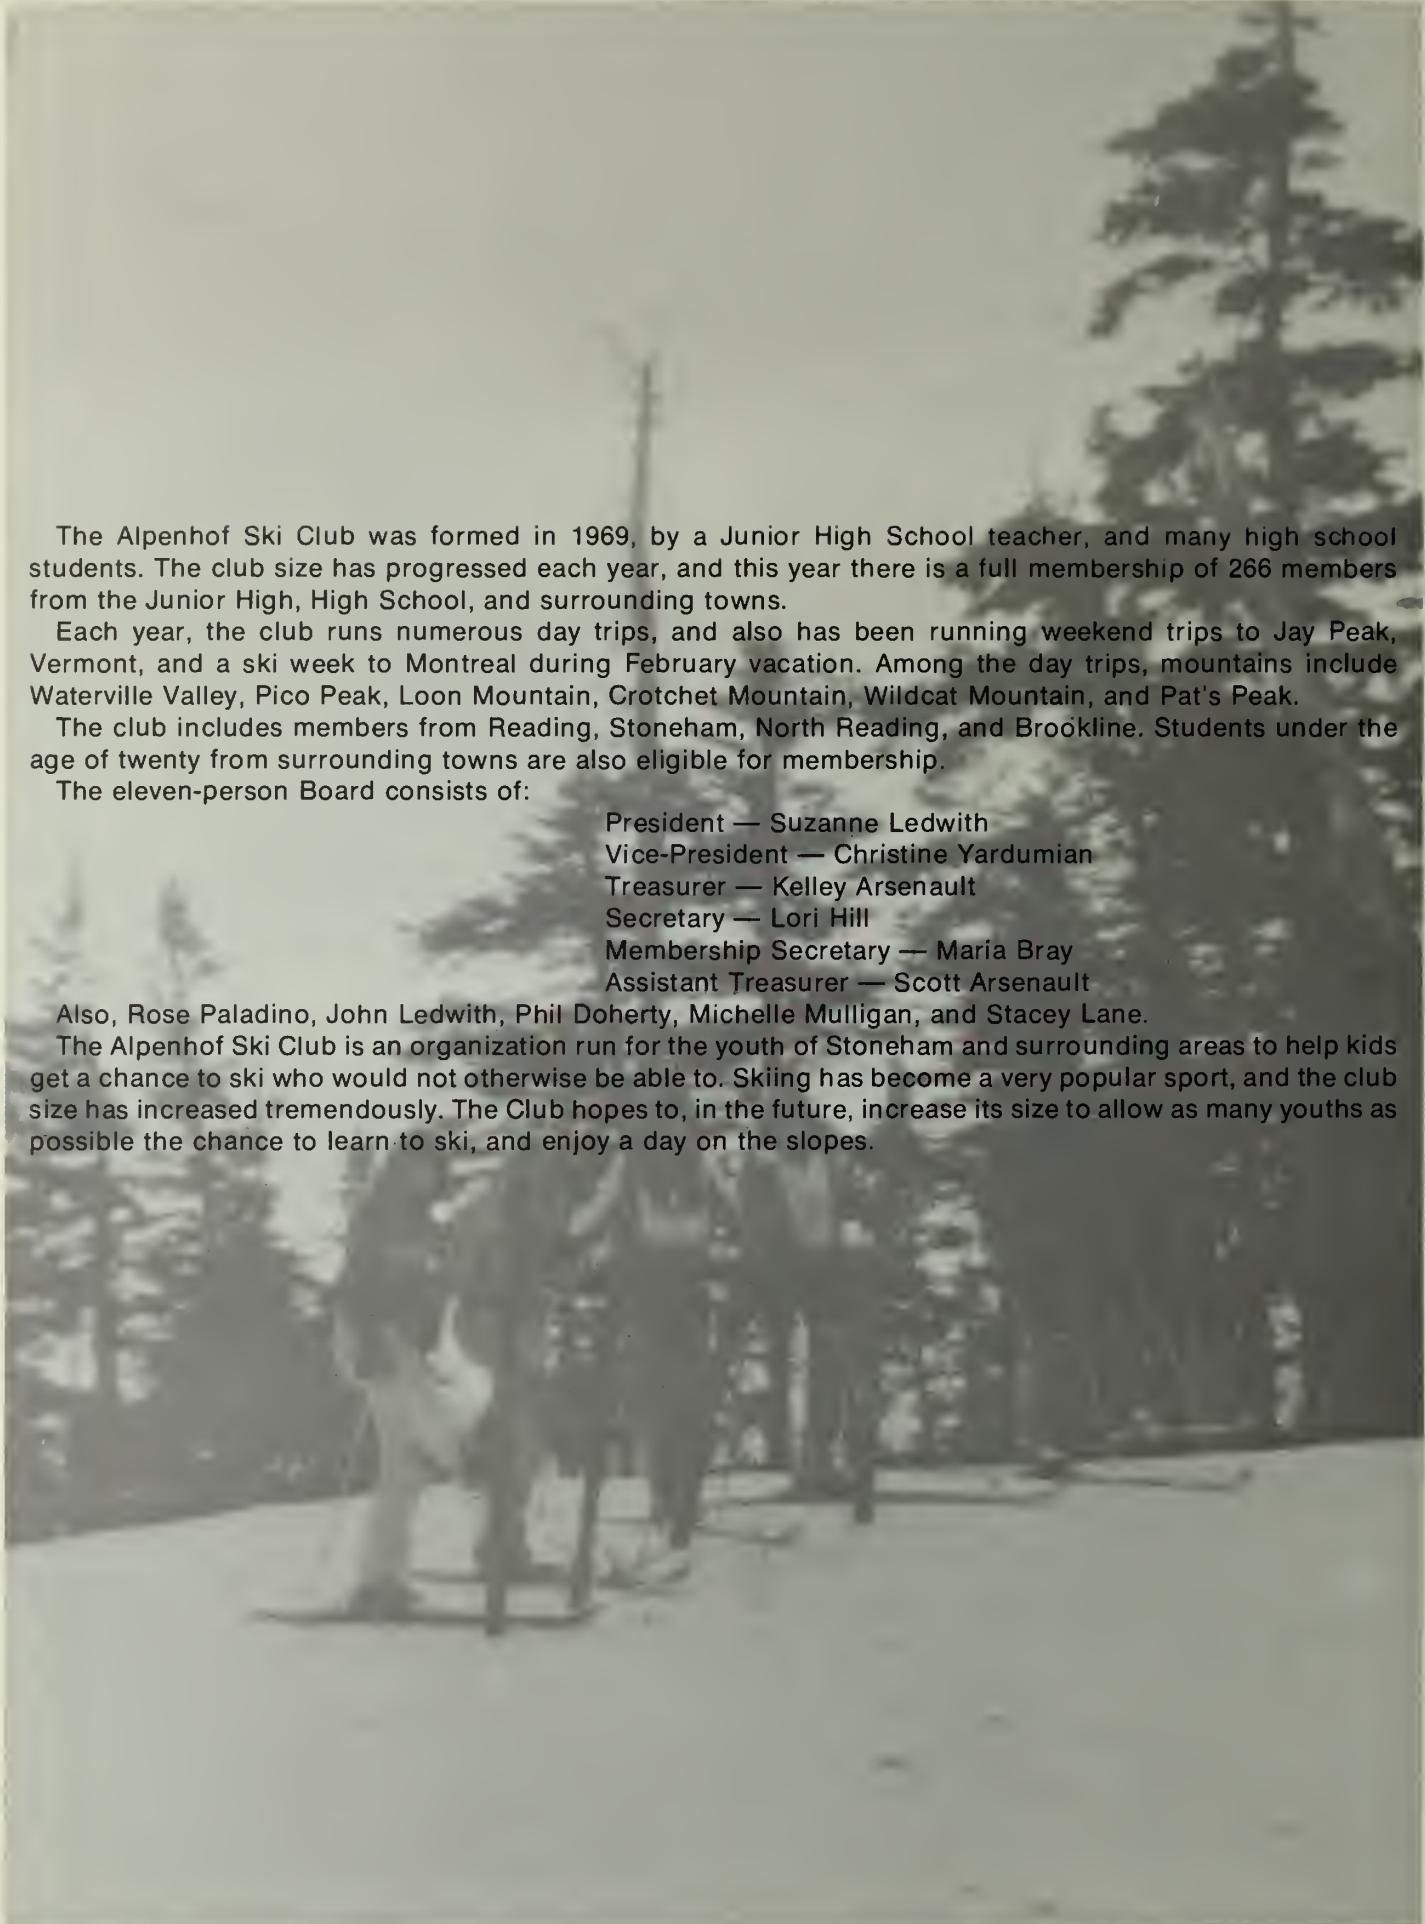

When the presses learned about Lisa, reporters from the Globe and Herald jumped at the story with great interest. Articles and photographs appeared in the newspapers' sports sections telling Lisa's incredible story.

Although publicity can sometimes be harmful, Lisa kept a reserved and understanding attitude concerning her minimal playing time and bench-warming duties. Lisa plans to continue to play hockey on a women's team at her college, of which she has yet to decide. We all wish her luck and success.

WHOOPS!!

The Alpenhof Ski Club was formed in 1969, by a Junior High School teacher, and many high school students. The club size has progressed each year, and this year there is a full membership of 266 members from the Junior High, High School, and surrounding towns.

Each year, the club runs numerous day trips, and also has been running weekend trips to Jay Peak, Vermont, and a ski week to Montreal during February vacation. Among the day trips, mountains include Waterville Valley, Pico Peak, Loon Mountain, Crotchet Mountain, Wildcat Mountain, and Pat's Peak.

The club includes members from Reading, Stoneham, North Reading, and Brookline. Students under the age of twenty from surrounding towns are also eligible for membership.

The eleven-person Board consists of:

President — Suzanne Ledwith
Vice-President — Christine Yardumian
Treasurer — Kelley Arsenault
Secretary — Lori Hill
Membership Secretary — Maria Bray
Assistant Treasurer — Scott Arsenault

Also, Rose Paladino, John Ledwith, Phil Doherty, Michelle Mulligan, and Stacey Lane.

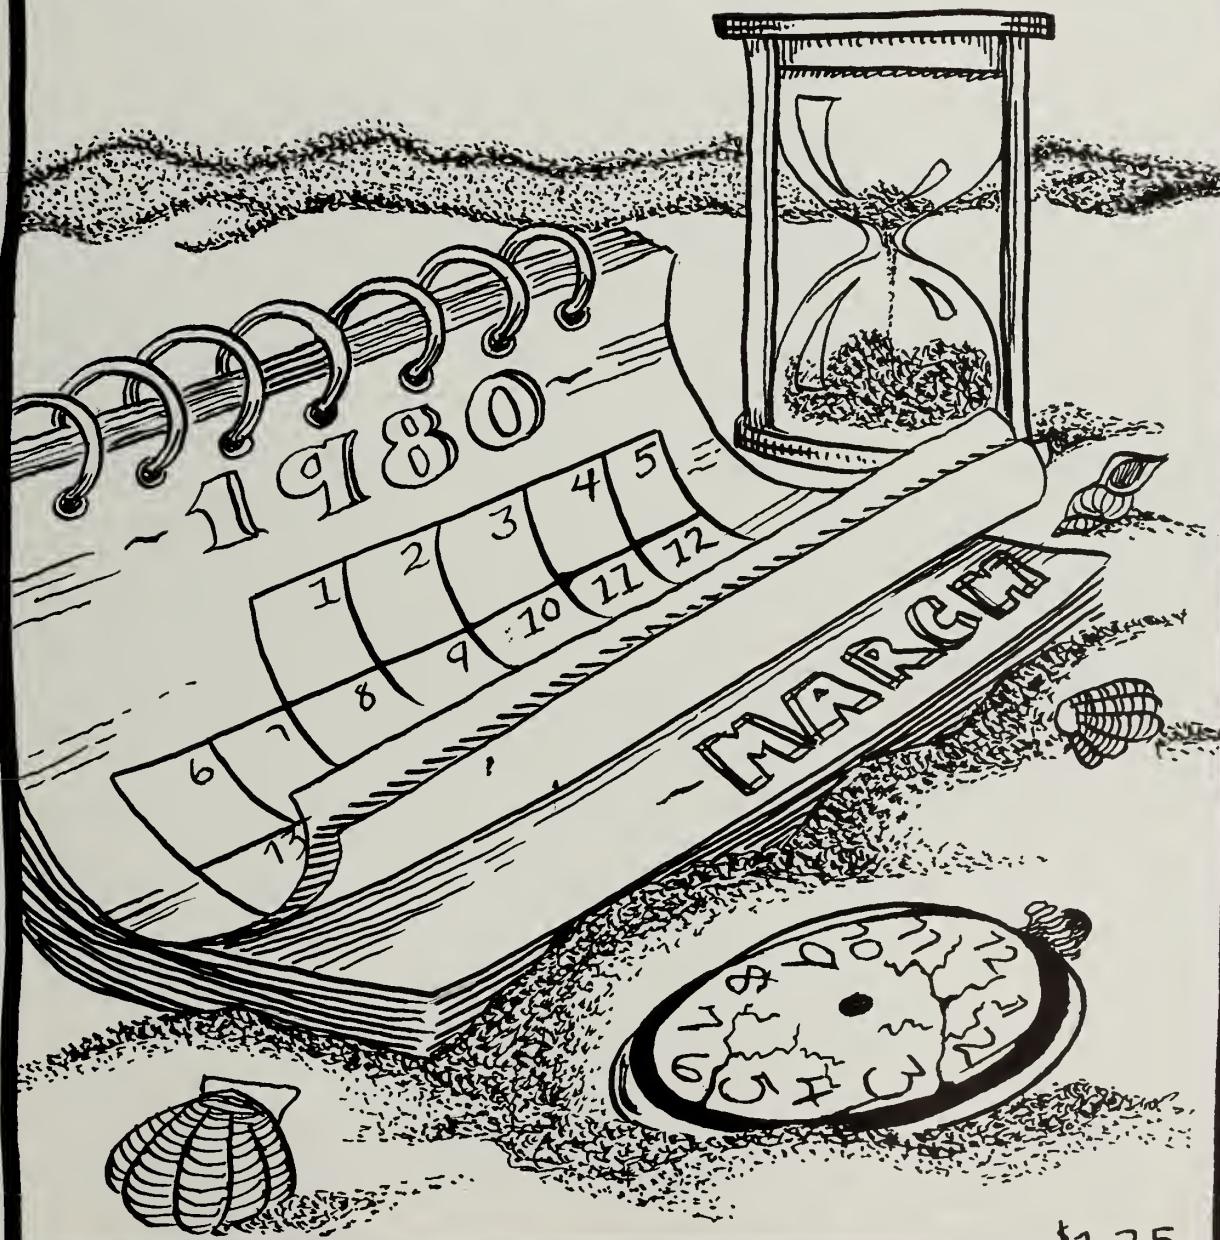

The Alpenhof Ski Club is an organization run for the youth of Stoneham and surrounding areas to help kids get a chance to ski who would not otherwise be able to. Skiing has become a very popular sport, and the club size has increased tremendously. The Club hopes to, in the future, increase its size to allow as many youths as possible the chance to learn to ski, and enjoy a day on the slopes.

Stoneham was once famous for its many shoe industries, then for its many gas stations and banks. But, if you're a teenager in this suburban town, you'll agree that the main attractions are the fast-food restaurants. From Friendly's to Denny's, there are twenty-four places where you can eat. Pizza parlors, ice-cream shops, bakeries, fish markets, and hamburger joints line the Main Street of Stoneham. A funny thing though, on Friday and Saturday nights, cars full of people seem to be attracted to one particular burger joint — BURGER KING!!!!

If you're looking for someplace to chow down and chat, Burger King is the place to go!!!! Within a $\frac{1}{4}$ mile radius up and down Main Street, you can indulge in anything from Papa's famous pizza to sub gum yum and tea. But, if you want weekend action after the movies or a game, head for Burger King, where you'll be greeted by either a "May I help you" Nancy DeFeo, or a "What do you want" Tom Minghella. Either way, most of the faces behind the B.K. scene are recognizable. Many of these employees are Stoneham High School students working a few hours a week to earn some spending money.

The crew aims to please, but because of a few uncooperative customers and all those "special orders," food mix-ups and a bit of confusion may occur. Have patience, and try to remember that they, too, are people. When you get your food, just sit and enjoy it with your friends.

It is within our nature to look . . .
And to choose from what we see.
We do not ask others for our freedom;
We look within ourselves.
Freedom is only the time between our last escape and our next capture.
We look for sunshine . . .
When we need a place away from darkness.
At times, we are alone,
. . . between frustration and realization.

Our struggle is what makes . . .
our wings strong.
We learn from all experiences.

We are not sure of where we are going,
but we are on our way.
